

Local baby books National SAG Commercial as well as Internet, Industrial and Print for Seventh Generation through The Brock Agency, Inc.

Aubrey's Mom Joella stated back in July 2009 after so many people kept telling her to seek out an agent for Aubrey so that's exactly what she did!

“After getting innumerable comments about how beautiful our baby girl was, we decided to try and put her into modeling. I consulted with a fellow Mom that happens to be in the entertainment industry herself and also has two children that are in the industry as well. She recommended that I contact Beverly from The Brock Agency. After interviewing with Beverly, I knew that I had come to the right place. I felt confident that she could help us as she had a lifetime of experience and was very reassuring in our decision to model our child. Having a knowledgeable agent, in my opinion, is the most important part of breaking into this industry. She has helped us navigate the unknown waters of resumes, headshots, submissions, auditions and callbacks. Six months after signing with The Brock Agency our daughter landed her first national SAG commercial. Following my instincts, the referral of a seasoned Mom and a devoted agent has been the key to our success” Joella said.

Babies don't work as much as adults but when they do the jobs are usually well worth the wait! Brock said. Joella followed all the information I needed for her to assist me in marketing Aubrey and it is going to pay off for Aubrey and her parents for that college education fund. The Brock Agency has begun a blitz for Aubrey to get her in front of as many casting agents and producers as possible. Not a lot of babies can be on set for as long as she did and keep such a great personality going!! We were all proud of how well she did and look forward to sending out more info on her upcoming work to all of our friends here in Hickory.
